Synopsis Books:

Every day, we witness a church full of people professing to know God. There are those who feel the need to let others know how long they have been members of their congregation. I have been here since the foundation was laid. I know more about God than you do. I was born in this church, so you cannot tell me anything about how it should run. The idea of what God wants from us has been lost for so many generations. We think that our membership at a particular church makes us saved and automatically makes us righteous. But, oh, how wrong we are. God's Word came to set us straight. Religion is not what He came to teach. He came to teach love, faith and repentance. Let us go back and establish a foundation for our Christian walk. Let us go back to the basics!
