Synopsis Books:

In this third book of the Joanna Hayworth Vintage Clothing mystery series, Joanna lands the dream assignment of dressing a bride for her celebrity wedding at a remote mountain lodge. The bridal gown is the rare and disturbing Tears dress from Schiaparelli's 1938 circus collection. Add one monstrous snowstorm, a mother who can't stop reliving her Studio 54 days, a New Age minister with a mysterious past, a temperamental young chef and a growing number of corpses and Joanna's dream soon becomes a nightmare. Slain in Schiaparelli adds a witty, contemporary twist to the classic country manor mystery.
